

How to apply – prepare your Application for German Job market!

Of course, you can use one of the many sample proposals to prepare your applications. It is quick, practical and costs nothing. However, will it be of any use? Doesn't it make more sense to create your application individually? With the arguments and content that speak only for you? Employers are looking for employees who are able to actually DO the job.

Your application must prove that this is the case. Empty phrases and general places are hardly sufficient to stand out from the competition. In our workshop, you will learn with practical examples how to analyze job descriptions and how to put your skills in the right light.

Get more insight about the typical "German way" to write applications.

Therefore, we are going to talk about CV and cover letter and the necessity of application photos.

This workshop will be held in English!

Target group: English speaking international students, graduates and doctoral students from JLU & THM
(für deutsche Studierende und Absolvierende gibt es ebenfalls gute Angebote an der THM und der JLU)

Tutor: Iris Heilgendorf, Intercultural Coach & advisor at Hochschulteam

You will find the upcoming events here:

Date and time	Target group	Info and registration
08.12.22 from 9.30 -12.30 a.m. via zoom, you will get the link after registration	International english-speaking Students of JLU and THM	JLU: Career Services der JLU  THM: Please register through Email with your name and faculty buddy@thm.de